

President's Message

Ladies,

We have been busy, busy, busy!!

I pray you had a wonderful July 4th with family and friends and remembering why we celebrate.

Our Volunteers To Go have been hard at work putting our face and name out in the community and I urge you to join us. If you want to volunteer contact Mary Sue Douville about our upcoming events.

Trish Wilson has been working hard on planning for our fund-raisers. She has a fun filled year planned for us. If you are not on Ways & Means, join now, she will need all the help she can get - especially with Bessie Bovine Bingo!

We are so grateful for our veterans, not only at this time of year, but always. Have a wonderful month ladies.

Blessings,
Tammy

Dub Haney — Life's Treasure, awarded posthumously

By Donna Gable Hatch

There are people who seldom look beyond what benefits themselves — whether in terms of time, happiness or financial gain — and then there are those who think only of others.

George Wyatt "Dub" Haney was the latter.

Haney, who died May 4, 2017, at the age of 89, garnered the respect of the communities in which he lived and left behind a legacy of kindness that will not be forgotten.

For his service to others, Haney was selected as a recipient of the 2017 Life's Treasures award.

Sponsored by The Kerrville Daily Times and the Dietert Center, the award honors individuals who work to improve the community and the lives of others through a lifetime of achievement, creativity or service.

"The thing that I always heard was Dub selflessly gave to the community," said Walt Koenig, president and CEO of the Kerrville Area Chamber of Commerce. "He was the kind of guy who was always first to arrive and last to leave when work was to be done. He simply didn't know the word 'no.' I knew him during the twilight of his life and, even during his last days, he was engaged and involved. He inspired many, including myself."

A son of the Lone Star state, Haney's lifetime of service began at an early age, when he, like many young men at the time, answered the call to arms in one of our nation's darkest hours.

Serving in the U.S. Navy during World War II, he was sent to San Diego, California, and was assigned to Balboa Naval Hospital to support wounded airmen and other personnel.

Ever a patriot, Haney exercised his right to vote in every election in an effort to ensure that the voice of the people would not be diminished by apathy.

He and his wife, May, who died in 1954, moved to Mountain Home, where he accepted a position as postmaster. He remarried in 1957 and continued to serve as postmaster for that community for 23 years.

"I remember my Dad telling me that, while at the Mountain Home Post Office during the Christmas season, if all of the packages had not been picked up on that last working day before Christmas, he would do his best to get them delivered to the recipient, so the gift would be there in time for Christmas," said Joan Salsbury, Haney's daughter.

At the time, Mountain Home's mail route extended more than 200 miles. Haney also was in charge of a substation on Prade Ranch. During his tenure as postmaster, Haney witnessed the advent of the five-digit ZIP codes and the evolution of the Post Office Department to the U.S.

Postal Service.

"If someone had a loved one overseas, and a letter or package was received, he would call the recipient to make sure they knew they had something from their loved one," Salsbury said of her father.

His kindnesses and dedication did not go unnoticed, and his reputation as a good man was solidified.

Haney went on to serve for four years as the postmaster in Ingram and six years in Comfort, before retiring after a total of 33 years in the federal mail service.

Salsbury said her father gave her memorabilia from his early days as postmaster, "and they are meaningful keepsakes for me."

Following retirement, Haney moved to the private sector in a variety of fields, but always in a capacity that enabled him to work with people.

"Through the years, Dub had made many friends — all throughout the community," said Craig Salsbury, Haney's son-in-law. "Two of the things Dub was best known for were his big hugs and also his strong handshakes."

Haney's commitment to service to others was rooted in the tenets of his Christian faith. Throughout the years, he and his second wife, Raye, who also preceded him in death, were members of Sunset Baptist Church, First Baptist Church — where he was a deacon and deacon emeritus — and Trinity Baptist Church.

He was active in the brotherhood at Sunset and First Baptist churches, and was a director and trustee of the nondenominational Hill Country Cowboy Camp Meeting.

A 40-plus-year member of the Rotary Club of Kerrville, Haney personified the organization's motto of "Service Above Self." Through his generosity and membership, he was honored with a Paul Harris Fellowship. The award, named for the founder of the 1.2-million-member Rotary International service organization, recognizes those individuals who are sterling advocates of the rotary's goals of world peace and international understanding.

Haney also served on the Ingram PTA, was a volunteer firefighter in the Mountain Home Volunteer Fire Department, was active in the Hunt-Ingram Lions Club, held a position in every office in the Texas chapter of the National Association of Postmasters of the United States, volunteered at the Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair, and was named an ambassador of the Kerrville Area Chamber of Commerce.

It was in service to the chamber that he and Raye were named Co-Citizens of the Year in 1996. A decade later, the couple was honored as co-lifetime members of the Kerrville Area Chamber of Commerce.

The Haney's had joined the chamber on Feb. 28, 1980, and on that date during a dedication ceremony this past year, Feb. 28 was declared by the chamber as Dub and Raye Haney Day. A plaque in the Haney's honor now hangs on a wall in the lobby of the chamber's office. In all, Haney was an active member of the chamber for more than 36 consecutive years.

Last September, he was recognized as the only individual member of the Kerrville Area Chamber of Commerce to attain 35-plus years. All other memberships in that category were businesses.

"In a lifetime, one meets thousands of people, and I have been blessed to meet some of the best," Koenig said. "Dub encouraged me and inspired me. He still does. I'm sure that I'm one of thousands that he touched. He is a man that I will never forget."

Haney is survived by daughters, Gayle Haney and Joan Salsbury and husband, Craig; granddaughter, Kate Salsbury and fiancé, Gavin Rieke; sister, Geraldine Haney Volter, of Sugar Land; brother, Jack Haney and wife, Mary Helen, of Huntsville; niece, Pat Angell and husband, Jim; sister-in-law, Loraine and brother-in-law, Jim Haynie of Mountain Home; Susie Hey; and numerous nieces, nephews, family and friends.

1. Shown in his younger years in the 1960s, Dub Haney sits at his postmaster's desk at the Mountain Home Post Office, where he served for 23 years.

2. Raye and Dub smile for a photo taken by their 3-year-old granddaughter, Kate, at Dub's sister's house during a weekend visit in 1992.

3. Ever the helper, Dub Haney makes tea in August 2000, as a volunteer at the Annual Cowboy Camp Meeting.

4. Dressed for the occasion and wearing his characteristic smile, Dub poses by the water wheel on Fredericksburg's Marktplatz, the downtown square, where he and Raye celebrated their anniversary in 2014.

Cloth Bags for Female patients at VA

Original cloth size: 44" x 12". Also need 37" yarn or heavy string and 2 buttons.

Iron cloth flat. Fold lengthwise with right sides facing and sew right side from top to bottom. Sew left side from bottom to 14 inches from the top; stop.

To create an opening on the left side, fold under remaining 7-8" on left side along seam line and sew each fold line from previous stopping point to the top on both sides of seam. Backstitch along the bottom split.

Fold top selvage down inside bag 2" all the way around the top from back left side to front left side; iron flat; do this again so there are two 2" folds. Iron flat. Sew the fold three times: 1/4" from top; 1" from top; 2" from top. Backstitch all ends.

Size should now be 18-18.5" long and 11" wide.

Use safety pin to pull 37" yarn or heavy string through middle casing line from left front to left back. Thread each end of yarn through a large button and tie end securely under each button. Sew 1/2" seam along bottom of bag for added strength and to shorten the length slightly. Finished!

A note from Tara Bushnoe on Directory

I am working to revise the membership directory section of the KCWC Yearbook to include all current members. I emailed the 2015-2016 directory for your reference – it is the most recent complete version. Please email me if any of your information in the document is incorrect. New 2016 and 2017 members are not listed in the directory, but I do have your contact information that you included on your membership application.

Also, please email me a current photo if you would like it to replace the photo in the document. If your photo is not in the directory, please send me one. A head and shoulders shot taken with a cell phone will be sufficient quality. Alternatively, I will be available at the luncheon on July 5th to take your picture if that is easier for you.

Thanks!
